Your IHM Spirit was shining bright:

THANK YOU FOR MAKING OUR 2026 SISTERS CELEBRATION UNFORGETTABLE!

Thank you for being part of the 2026 Sisters Celebration and for your generous support! Highlights of the evening included the introduction of the Congregation's new leadership and the presentation of the Spirit of IHM Awards to Dr. Jay Bannon, Tracy Bannon, and Teddy Michel.

Most importantly, your generosity helped us exceed our fundraising goal, providing vital support toward the health, safety, and well-being of our retired IHM Sisters.

Enjoy a few photos from the celebration and accept our sincere thanks to our sponsors, whose names are listed in this publication. For more photos and videos, please go online: <https://www.sistersofihm.org/thank-you-for-supporting-the-2026-ihm-sisters-celebration/>

IHM Connection is published by the Development Office of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, IHM Center, 2300 Adams Avenue, Scranton, PA 18509 - 1514. The purpose of this newsletter is to communicate the works and needs of the IHM Congregation.

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

The IHM Spirit weaves its way through the life and work of every Sister, through our ministries, and through each person whose life is touched by the Congregation. It is present in those we meet, those we serve, and those we comfort, and in those who walk with us. You will see it in the stories in this issue.

This year's Sisters Celebration was a beautiful testament to that enduring spirit. The generosity of our supporters and the heartfelt reflections shared by our speakers reminded us of the profound impact the Sisters have had on countless lives. It is there at the heart of all of the IHM-sponsored works – Marywood University, Friends of the Poor and Catherine McAuley Center, St. Joseph's Center, Our Lady of Grace Montessori School and Spirituality Center in Manhasset, New York, NativityMiguel School Scranton, and in all of our ministries.

Again and again, we hear stories of how the Sisters never let anything get in the way of helping those in need. They ask, "How can I help?" and go to work. They passed on their values, faith, and compassion—changing not only individual lives but also the communities around them.

Whether we seek support to ensure the health, safety, and well-being of our retired Sisters, or invite others to partner with us in the ministries where we continue to share the IHM Spirit throughout the world, we do so knowing that this mission belongs to all of us.

While the number of IHM Sisters may be smaller today than it once was, the work inspired by that IHM Spirit is strong because it continues through the Sisters and through all of you. It lives on in the people you help, in the kindness you show, and in the examples you set for your family, friends, and your community.

It has been a true joy and privilege to share with you news of the projects the Sisters are undertaking and what your support means to the IHM Community. Over the past sixteen years, your generosity has inspired me. The stories you have shared about the Sisters who touched your lives have moved me deeply.

I know you and your connections to the IHM community have made and will continue to make a difference. Please continue to share the IHM Spirit with others to help carry this important mission forward—inspiring, serving, and transforming lives for generations to come.

With gratitude, blessings, and prayers,

S. Ann Monica Bubser, IHM

WALKING WITH WONDERFUL PARTNERS LIKE YOU

by IHM Congregation President Sister Annmarie Sanders

The world continues to hunger for communities that foster hope, reconciliation, compassion, and the dignity of every person. With that in mind, one thing has become very clear to us. While our Congregation maybe smaller than it once was, we believe the IHM mission has never been more important. Those values remain at the heart of who we are as IHM Sisters. They continue to shape everything that we do.

In July, more than 120 IHM Sisters and Associates, as well as ten Sisters of St. Casimir (a congregation that we accompany), gathered for our Congregation assembly. Together we reflected on the 2026 chapter direction statement that will guide the work of the Congregation for the next four years. The statement reminds us that we are called to continue living the Gospel wholeheartedly and, maybe most importantly, that we don't walk alone. Rather, we walk with wonderful partners like you.

The IHM mission has never belonged just to the IHM Sisters. It has always been carried by a much wider community who believe that faith is lived most authentically when it's shared. So please remember that when you invest in the IHM Sisters, you're helping to ensure that this mission of faith, service, and hope continues to touch lives of future generations. Our invitation is to continue together living the mission with attentive hearts, noticing the signs of grace along the way and responding with trust. You are participating in a living charism that continues to shape our Church and the world.

Please know as well that our leadership team, along with all of our Sisters are here not only to serve the Congregation, but also to be partners with each of you. We welcome your friendship, your ideas, your questions, and your continued involvement in our mission. Thank you for your generosity and for the many ways that you make our IHM mission a living witness of God's grace in the world. God Bless You!

Sister Annmarie Sanders, IHM.

Legacy of Friendship

PLAN A LEGACY GIFT TO THE SISTERS OF IHM

Gifts to the IHM Congregation make a significant impact on the care of our elderly IHM Sisters and on our ability to minister to others.

Legacy giving, often referred to as planned giving, is a simple, yet powerful way to perpetuate the mission of the IHM Congregation into the future. It is a form of charitable giving (philanthropy) that involves contributing one's assets through wills and estate plans to continue the work. Planned giving options also include bequests, charitable remainder trusts, charitable gift annuities and charitable leads trusts.

Please consider a gift that will help the IHM Spirit continue to touch future generations! For more information, please contact Sister Ann Monica Bubser, IHM, at (570) 346-5431 or bubsera@sistersofihm.org.

The legal title and address is: Congregations of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, IHM Center, 2300 Adams Avenue, Scranton, PA 18509.

WHY I GIVE

A DONOR'S STORY

By Lori Barrett, Esq.

My connection to the Sisters of IHM began in a rather unconventional way. I attended public school my entire life. I wasn't taught by Sisters, and I didn't grow up knowing any Sisters. In fact, my first encounter with an IHM Sister came in March of 1992—and it is one I will never forget.

I was attending law school in New Jersey, where I grew up, when a rather handsome upperclassman invited me to his hometown of Scranton for the St. Patrick's Day Parade. Of course, I accepted.

As we stood along the parade route, I suddenly noticed what appeared, from a distance, to be a four-foot-tall leprechaun break from the procession and head straight toward me, shillelagh in hand. Before I quite knew what was happening, she threw her arms around me and exclaimed, "Love you, Lor!"

It took her nephew a bit longer to say those words to me, but it took Sister Adrian Barrett, IHM, about 20 seconds.

I eventually married my law school sweetheart and became part of the Barrett family, and Sister Adrian became someone I deeply admired. Through her, I witnessed firsthand an unwavering faith and what I can only describe as an insatiable desire to help anyone who needed it. Not just the vulnerable or the poor—anyone. Even if you didn't need help, Sister Adrian would probably offer it anyway.

Sister Adrian was my introduction not only to the IHM Sisters, but also to what I have come to know as the IHM Spirit.

To me, the IHM Spirit is more than a catchphrase. It is a way of life. It is faith put into action and compassion without conditions. It is seeing goodness in every person and responding with love. For many of us, that is not always easy. The Sisters do not begin by asking whether someone deserves their help. They simply ask, "How can I help?"

For generations, that question has guided the Sisters as they educated children, cared for those in need, welcomed immigrants, supported expectant mothers, helped people struggling with addiction or homelessness, and responded to countless others who simply came to them looking for help. Again and again, their answer has been, "Yes."

That is the IHM Spirit: compassion, courage, justice, prayer, and, above all, love in action.

Today, many of the Sisters who devoted their lives to caring for others are themselves growing older and retiring from active ministry. They did not spend their careers accumulating wealth, earning bonuses, or building generous retirement packages. Instead, they invested their lives in something far more valuable—they invested in people. They invested in our children, our families, and our communities.

I believe it is now our turn to invest in them.

That is why I give to the Sisters of IHM Foundation, and why I am honored to serve as Treasurer of its Board. Supporting the Foundation is one small way I can say "thank you" and help ensure that these remarkable women, who have spent their lives caring for others, age with dignity and receive the care and support they so richly deserve.

More than three decades have passed since a little leprechaun came running toward me on the streets of downtown Scranton and welcomed me with an unconditional "Love you, Lor!" I didn't know it at the time, but Sister Adrian wasn't simply welcoming me into the Barrett family.

She was introducing me to the IHM Spirit, too.

And that is why I give.

Sister Adrian Barrett, IHM, in parade mode!
